

OLYMPIC TEAM NOW AT NAPLES ALL DOING WELL

Athletes Injured by Giant Wave Declare They Will Compete.

NAPLES, April 15.—The North German Lloyd steamer Barbarossa, from New York April 3 and Gibraltar April 12, having on board the American athletes who are entered to take part in the Olympic Games, which begin at Athens April 22, arrived here to-day. The men who were injured while crossing the Atlantic, with the exception of James S. Mitchell, of the New York Athletic Club, the weight lifter and hammer thrower, and Harry L. Hillman, Jr., the New York Athletic Club runner, have recovered. Mitchell's arm is still in a sling and Hillman's left leg is still bandaged. The latter is improving and expects to compete at Athens.

All the Americans were in good spirits and insisted that the accident would not appreciably affect the strength of the team.

Hillman's injured knee is still slightly discolored and swollen. It was treated by Dr. Catana, of the New York Athletic Club, delegate of the United States to the Medical Congress to be held at Lisbon April 19 to 23, who happened to be on board. The doctor massaged the injured knee, which greatly assisted in limbering the joint and restoring the strength of the tendons.

Mitchell suffered the most from the sea voyage, remaining in bed three days after his dislocated left shoulder had been set by the ship's surgeon. He was able to go about with the rest of the American party and landed here to-day with his arm in a sling. Although he continues hopeful of making a showing at Athens and says he certainly will try for a prize, the other members of the team fear Mitchell is badly handicapped.

Referring to the injuries sustained by Mitchell and himself, Hillman said: "Only six out of the thirty-two of us were struck by the wave, and four of the six are again in line. Only Mitchell and myself are slightly injured. My right knee is bandaged and a little stiff, but it has been greatly improved by massage treatment. I hardly think it will interfere with my running."

"I took a practice jog on deck yesterday without any pain and had easy jogs to-day without difficulty. I hope to be entirely fit in a few days. The main drawback is the interruption of practice."

Marlin J. Sheridan, the champion discus-thrower of the Irish-American Athletic Club, New York, whose left arm and leg were injured at the time Mitchell and Hillman were hurt, says his injuries do not interfere with his throwing. The injury to his arm is confined to severe bruises, and the tendons of his left ankle, which were strained, have entirely regained their strength.

The running ability of Harry Cohn, the distance runner of the Irish-American Athletic Club, New York, who was also slightly hurt in one of his legs, is pronounced to be unimpaired. Cohn also sustained a slight rupture of his eardrum, but this is passing away, although he continues to feel a certain degree of numbness on the left side of the head.

W. Kerrigan, the champion high jumper, of the Multnomah Athletic Club, of Portland, Ore., and E. A. Boroman, the champion diver of the Chicago Athletic Club, got off with a few minor bruises. A member of the team said:

"The men are in the condition. The Mediterranean trip has done them a great deal of good, exciting that Charles J. Bacon, the distance runner of the Irish-American Athletic Club, developed two little and good with his right ankle. But he is making reasonably good progress towards recovery."

DR. MYERS FAILS TO MAKE GOOD HIS CHARGES

Admits in John Doe Case
He Has No Poolroom
Evidence.

The Rev. Dr. Cortland Myers, the Brooklyn reformer, who has repeatedly charged that the police were negligent in closing pool-rooms against which the Society for the Enforcement of Criminal Laws had obtained evidence, was sworn as a witness in John Doe proceedings in Jefferson Market Police Court this afternoon. Third Deputy Commissioner Mathot and Inspector Schmittberger asked Magistrate Finn to start the John Doe proceedings last week and Dr. Myers was subpoenaed to make good his charges.

He identified letters he had written to Mayor McClellan, Commissioner Bingham and Deputy Commissioner Mathot setting forth long lists of alleged wide-open pool-rooms. But he admitted that of his own knowledge he knew nothing about these places.

"Where do you get your information?" he was asked by Mr. Mathot.

"From detectives employed by the Society for the Enforcement of Criminal Laws, of which I am president," replied Dr. Myers.

He could not remember the names of the detectives, explaining that they came from Philadelphia, Boston and other cities and remain in town only a few weeks. Dr. Myers admitted that he had no knowledge of collision between the police and pool-room keepers or any other offenders, and no evidence upon which to base such charges. When pinned down to specific charges made in his letters he was evasive.

"If we had money enough we could get the evidence," declared the witness. "The Police Department will furnish you money if you can produce evidence," said Mr. Mathot.

"I accept the offer," hurriedly cried the clergyman.

He said one of his detectives named Dunbar gambled in a pool-room at No. 62 Dey street on April 2. This place has been raided dozens of times. Dunbar was in court and was called to the stand after Mr. Mathot said he would insist upon substantiating all the Myers' charges who have been gathering pool-room evidence.

ELECTRIC SPARK CAUSED CRASH ON KEARSARGE

Connection Made with Firing
Apparatus as Charge
Was Rammed.

GUANTANAMO Cuba April 15.—A board of inquiry appointed by Rear-Admiral Robley D. Evans, commander-in-chief of the United States fleet, to-day began an investigation of the cause of the explosion April 13, on board the battleship Kearsarge, while the crew were engaged in target practice off Cuba Island, resulting in the death of two officers and five men.

Very little information regarding the accident is obtainable here, pending the inquiry, and no member of the crew of the Kearsarge will be allowed ashore for the present.

When a correspondent of the Associated Press first boarded the Kearsarge to-day, all information was absolutely refused, but later a few details of the disaster were obtained. The explosion, it appears, took place while a charge was being rammed into the breach of a 13-inch gun. While this was being done, it was further asserted, connection was accidentally made with the electric firing apparatus and an explosion occurred.

Lieut. John M. Hudkins, one of the two officers killed, was in charge of the firing party, and Lieut. Joseph W. Green, who succumbed to his injuries April 14, was attached to the armored cruiser Maryland and was acting as sniper. He was taken on board the Maryland and died there.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—The following cablegram was received at the Navy Department this afternoon from Rear-Admiral Brownson, commanding the armored cruiser squadron, dated Calmar, Guantánamo Bay:

"The Kearsarge was held this afternoon over the bodies of Lieut. Hudkins and the following enlisted men of the Kearsarge: Jules A. Koster, Anton C. Thorson, Theodore Nagely, Ellis N. Ahey and Peter N. Rieve."

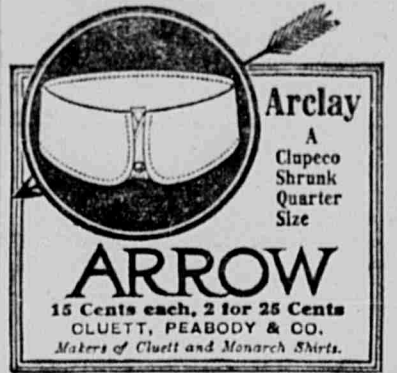

"Hudkins and Green's bodies prepared and are now aboard the Maryland. Enlisted men were interred in the naval cemetery. No change in the condition of the injured men. The Kearsarge will return to the range and finish target practice when the condition of the men permits."

Sister Are Rescued Unharmed.

Mrs. Mary Smith, living on the ground floor front of No. 39 East Seventieth street, went out marketing to-day, leaving her children, Thomas, three years old, and Mary, one, at home. Thomas found some matches and set fire to some rags in the kitchen. Neighbors smelled smoke and called Policeman Mooney, who broke in the door and found the flat full of smoke, the kitchen ablaze and the children in the parlor, screaming and terrified. Mooney took them out, unharmed, and firemen quickly put out the flames.

FRAZIN & OPPENHEIM

23c. Pure Silk 5-in. Ribbon, All New Shades, Yd. at 10c

The Beginning of "The New Kind of a Store."

FRAZIN & OPPENHEIM have for years been identified as the foremost shoe manufacturers and retailers in this country. They operate over twenty stores in Chicago, several in Philadelphia and three stores in New York, besides doing an extensive mail order trade and having several other merchandise connections.

Thus they are in daily contact with the great weavers and manufacturers of this country and in position to see the great possibilities for an outlet for all their (the manufacturers) surplus stocks, mill ends, run of weaves, samples, etc.

Weavers and manufacturers had had to carry these things as they would insurance, thought it was part of their expenses.

However, when the Association of Manufacturers and Weavers was put to them every one became enthusiastic, and that was the beginning of the strongest business proposition before the public.

The Weavers and Manufacturers' Association comprises over one thousand cloth, silk and wash fabric weavers and manufacturers of every conceivable kind of high grade merchandise. We get every stitch of goods these factories and mills weave, or make, or have, above their regular orders. And as the merchandise is made and sold six months ahead of the retail season, every piece of goods is fresh, clean—the very smartest of the season. While the prices that prevail in this store guarantee you a saving of 50c. to 70c. on every dollar you spend here, and as you know this season's goods were made during the winter months, therefore every article or piece of merchandise is in the height of fashion. We will talk about the bargain possibilities of this store to-morrow. Look for it. Come to the store; the demonstration of our plan is successfully meeting increasing patronage every day. Are you among them?
